

Carved From Stone: Legacy of A Granite Town showcases the people, processes and products of the Westerly granite industry. It is written and produced by Betty-Jo Cugini Greene of Weathervane Communications with videographer/editor Jim Karpeichik of Ocean State Video.

The documentary that debuted on Rhode Island PBS includes 1920 era film from the Sullivan Granite Quarry, a tour of Westerly Granite monuments in Gettysburg National Military Park and Woodlawn Cemetery in New York. Learn about the granite industry from those who worked the stone and granite historians who have their own granite connections.

Bonus Material Includes
